2007—Our Year in Review

“It was truly a year of incredible growth, joy and service,” said Chip Rumis, Chairman of Community of Faith Ministries, Inc. as he described the highlights of 2007.

CFM completed service projects in Mexico, Mississippi and ended the year looking in its own backyard for a rebuilding opportunity after the October Wildfires destroyed more than 1500 homes in San Diego.

In March and April,

Galeana, MX

more than three dozen volunteers journeyed to the mountainous highlands of Mexico to a small village called Galeana. There, in four weeks, the volunteers rebuilt an abandoned orphanage.

In August, about 40 volunteers made their way to Wave-land/Bay St. Louis, MS where we braved 100 degree plus temps to build the Barbazon home.

Looking Ahead to 2008

Santa Ana winds blew into San Diego County in October of 2007 creating another deadly series of wildfires.

More than 1500 homes burned, numerous people were injured, several died and more than 500,000

people were evacuated.

Fire officials say more than 369,000 acres burned. Just four years earlier, Santa Ana winds again scorched the area in what is known as the Cedar Fire.

CFM is interviewing families and handing out disaster assistance applications as we look for a project in early 2008.

Letter from Chip Rumis

Dear Friends,

My goodness, how we have grown in just the last year.

What started as a simple act of service in our faith, has now grown to include volunteers and donors from around the country. In addition, we did our first international project this year.

As we have expanded, I am proud to tell you that financially we still put 100% of every donated dollar into our projects. A donor has blessed us by writing a check at year end for the last two years which covers all of our overhead. In 2006, that amount was $3,600.

Looking back on 2007, I would have never thought we would now be searching for a rebuilding project in San Diego, where many of our volunteers and officers of the organization live. The October Wildfires forced Jean and I from our home [it survived] along with board member Steve Arnold, whose house suffered fire damage also, but ultimately survived. San Diego County was hit hard by the devastation and we hope to announce a project shortly.

A Special "Thank You!" to our GREAT volunteers from First Assembly of God and Living Waters United Methodist Church, of Lancaster, PA. They performed early work setting the posts on the Barbazon home in Mississippi. We missed thanking them in our Fall Newsletter.

I'd like to leave you with a wonderful verse a good friend shared with me that he and his wife attached to little Christmas stockings they give out each year, "Be the Change You Wish to See in the World."

Blessings, Chip & Jean.
